DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 8-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter, which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Operation of the claimed process and device, when viewed in light of the originally filed disclosure, remains a mystery.

Elected

[0031] In the embodiment shown in FIG. 3, on the right one respective deep-bed filter medium as the respective laminar filter 32 is inserted toward the edge-side boundary of the filtrate space 30 viewed in the direction of looking at FIG. 3. On the opposite side, this time a filter cloth 46 of conventional structure as another filter medium borders the filtrate space 30. As FIG. 3 furthermore shows, along one middle plane the respective membrane plate 44 has two membranes 42 which are separated by one chamber wall 48. Between the chamber wall 48 and the respective membrane adjacently opposite, a pressure space 50 is formed by delivering and draining a pressurized fluid by way of the pressure channels 52 (compare FIG. 3a) the respective membrane 42, for example in the form of a rubber-elastic membrane, being pressed in the direction of the adjacently opposite filter cloth wall 46, the respective filter cloth 46 being provided with a definable fluid permeability. Furthermore, the respective membrane 42 with the filter cloth 46 assignable thereto borders a washing chamber 54 which can be supplied with a definable washing liquid by way of other channels 56 (compare FIG. 3a).

How?

Drawings

Given the inconsistencies and lack of clarity as to what cross-section is being referred to, the drawings submitted on January 21, 2010 have NOT BEEN APPROVED.

Response to Amendment

The amendments filed August 31, 2009 and January 21, 2010 are objected to under 35 U.S.C. 132(a) because they introduce new matter into the disclosure. 35 U.S.C. 132(a) states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material which is not supported by the original disclosure is as follows flow directional arrows; lines indicating various cross-section cuts; and all amendments to the Brief Description of the Drawings.

Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in the reply to this Office Action.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 1/21/10 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant has argued that the “cross sections would be readily apparent to one of ordinary skill in the art upon studying the drawings and the descriptive portion of the specification.” The undersigned respectfully disagrees. One skilled in the art would not have understood the novel, unconventional and confusing approach taken by Applicant in visualizing and depicting cross sections.

Regarding the “delivery and draining of pressurized fluid into space 50 via pressure channels 52,” Applicant has argued, “the pressure spaces 50 and pressure channels 52 are connected in the same manner as the other channels to their respective spaces.” And that, “Such connection would be readily apparent to one skilled in the art based on the original disclosure (including the entire specification and drawings).” The undersigned respectfully disagrees.

The Responses of August 31, 2009 and January 21, 2010 have been somewhat illuminating in a way that the originally filed disclosure should have been. Unfortunately, the addition of such illuminating items such as cross section cut lines and flow directional arrows after filing, is seen to constitute prohibited new matter. The quid pro quo for the exclusive right is disclosure. Applicant's originally filed disclosure would not have enabled those skilled in the art to practice the claimed invention.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
